Dear Parents & Carers,

RE: SNOW WARNING & SCHOOL CLOSURE

A spell of heavy snow is expected to move across Southwest England tomorrow, Thursday 1st March, starting around 11:00am.

We anticipate that the school will be open as usual tomorrow morning, but we may need to close early, if the snow fall becomes heavy. Parents will be informed initially by SMS and the School Closures page of Bath and North East Somerset Council website will be updated. <http://www.bathnes.gov.uk/school-closures> We will also update the school Facebook and Twitter pages.

If we have a significant snow fall we will prioritise clearing the main entrance to the school and advise all parents and carers to enter the school and nursery from Poolemead Road.

If there is heavy snow on Thursday evening and overnight we may need to close the school on Friday. I will liaise with Mr Neil Fry, our caretaker, and Mrs Clare Greene the Interim Headteacher at St Michael's Junior School early on Friday morning. By 7.15am a decision will be taken on whether to open or close the school.

More information on closing the school can be found on our Adverse Weather Policy (December 2017): <http://bit.ly/2F1uDi1> which is on our school website.

If the school is closed on Friday, we will reschedule our World Book Day Celebration to Friday 9th March.

George Samios
Headteacher
